PROFILE:

Jausman is a certified tourism guide of SENA (National Learning Service of Colombia) born in el Retorno, Guaviare. At the age of 14 he began his career as an environmental interpreter in Montebello village, close to Tatama National Park. He was focusing his craft on birdwatching as he was amazed at the wide variety of birds he found in his territory. In 2006 he participated as a collaborator in the inventory of the birds of Tatamá National Park and in the inventory of the birds of Rio Negro Municipal Park in 2007, so he decided to take as a profession to make known the wonderful world of birds of his territory, starting in Pueblo Rico Risaralda and expanding his horizons to new territories like Caldas, Antioquia, Quindío, Arauca, Boyacá, Meta and Monterrey Casanare where he currently resides. Today he does his job around, as he says "the wonderful feathered friends and their magic rain of colors".
